Cookie Policy

By viewing or using our website https://yuriyplotnikovv.ru/ (hereinafter – referred to as the Site), you accept this Cookie Policy (hereinafter – referred to as the Policy). If you do not agree with the Policy, please do not use the Site. By accessing our Website, you accept the terms of use of cookies set out in this Policy.

1. What are cookies?

Cookies – are small text files that are stored on your device (computer, smartphone, tablet or other device used to visit the Site) when you visit our-website. The next time you visit our-website, it will be able to recognize your browser thanks to cookies.

Cookies help us:

– find out which sections of the website are useful and which need to be improved.

– ensure that the website is operational and functional.

– Improve the website based on your preferences to provide you with the necessary information.

– for marketing purposes (subject to your consent).

Cookies allow the website to remember your settings: language, font size, and other personal settings for the appearance of the website, so you don't have to configure the website every time you visit it.

We also allow third parties to use cookies on our website. This means that our website allows third-party companies (third parties) to set their own cookies on your device.

If you disable cookies and similar technologies, this may negatively affect the operation of the website. If you refuse to process cookies, our website will only use strictly necessary cookies. Please note that disabling or prohibiting cookies may prevent you from using our website as efficiently as possible.

2. What kind of cookies do we use?

We use several types of cookies:

Session cookies – are temporary files that are created by a website to store information about your current session. They are saved only when your browser is open, and are automatically deleted when you close it. Session cookies allow you to remember information about your choice on the previous page to avoid having to re-enter information.

Persistent cookies – are files that are stored on your device for a certain amount of time, even after you close your browser. They are stored until you delete them or until they expire. These cookies allow us to identify you as a unique user when you return to our website and help us remember information about you and your previous actions.

Categories of cookies

Strictly necessary cookies

These cookies are essential for the proper functioning of the website and cannot be disabled in our systems. They are usually installed only in response to your actions that are equivalent to a request for services, such as setting privacy settings, logging in, or filling out forms. These cookies do not store any personal information and are not used for marketing purposes or tracking user behavior outside of the main functionality of the website.

Performance cookies

These cookies collect anonymous information about how you interact with the website, help identify areas that need improvement, count visits and traffic sources. If you do not allow the use of these cookies, we will not be able to monitor the website and improve its performance.

Functional cookies

These cookies allow the website to remember your choices and provide improved, more personalized features. They may be installed by us or by third parties whose services we have added to the website. If you do not allow the use of these cookies, some or all of these services may not work properly.

Targeting and analytics cookies

These cookies are used to track your activities on and off the website in order to provide more relevant and personalized advertising. They help third parties understand your interests and serve ads that can be more interesting and useful. These cookies can be set through our website by us or by third parties.

You can opt out of the use of cookies by selecting the appropriate settings in your browser. However, this may affect some of the site's functions.
